听第1篇短文，回答第1—5小题。

Florence Jackson is a 9-year-old girl. She loves drawing. She beat 17,000 people and won a competition on the TV programme, Blue Peter. The competition asked people to design a 50 pence coin for the 2012 Olympics Games in London. Her design was simple and interesting. She was the first child to design a British coin. She said, "I am so excited. It was a real surprise to win. I'd never entered a Blue Peter competition before, but I really wanted to take part because I love drawing. It was amazing to see my picture turned into a coin. I can't wait to see it in my pocket money!"

听第2篇短文，回答第6—10小题。

Mrs Jones did not have a husband, but she had two sons. They were strong boys, but they were lazy. On Saturdays they did not go to school, and their mother always said, "Please cut the grass in the garden this afternoon, boys." The boys did not like it, but they always did it. One day, their friend gave the boys a magazine, and they saw a picture of a beautiful mower in it. There was a woman on the mower. The boys took the picture to their mother and said, "Look. That woman is sitting on the mower and cutting the grass. We want one." "One mower?" their mother asked. "No. We want a woman. Then she can cut the grass every week," the boys said.

W: Good morning, sir. Can I help you?

M: Well, it's this cat I bought from you yesterday.

W: Oh, yes, the cat. Is there anything wrong with it?

M: Anything wrong with it? It's dead.

W: Dead? It can't be! Perhaps it's sleeping.

M: It's not sleeping. How can it be sleeping when it's not breathing?

W: Perhaps if we sing to it, it will wake up.

M: Look, I've had enough of this. You sold me a dead cat and I want my money back.

W: Is your wife happy?

M: Yes, she is. The new kitchen is beautiful. She likes to cook in it.

W: Do you have a garden?

M: Yes, there's a big garden round the back. We have lots of flowers.

W: What do your children like to do?

M: My son likes to play football and basketball. My daughter likes music. We have a music room in the new house. She likes it very much.

W: Excuse me, how much are the tickets?

M: It's 5.50 pounds for adults.

W: 5.50 pounds ... OK ... tell me, is there a reduction for students? My son is a full-time student, you see.

M: Yes, it's 2.75 pounds for full-time students with a student identity card ... and it's free for children under twelve.

W: Right, so that's two adults, one student. Here's the card. Oh, my daughter's ten so she goes free.

M: That'll be 13.75 pounds altogether. Thank you. And 1.25 change ... thank you.

听第 8 段材料，回答第 8 题。

W: I thought I might see you here! Are you doing research for your oral report for our American History class?

M: Yes, I am. Fortunately, I found one book here that will give me all the information I need.

W: What are you going to talk about?

M: I've thought of a topic that most people don't know much about — the American islands in the Pacific.

W: That's a good idea. I don't think anyone will think of that. I don't even know what they are.

M: Well, most people think of New York City or Texas when they think of America, not islands with different cultures.

W: I think you're right about that. Well, I'd better see if I can find some books for my own report.

W: Good morning, Housing Office. How can I help you?

M: Hi, I'm calling about the low-cost housing for graduate students.

W: Are you aware that it's only available to married graduate students and their families?

M: Yes, I think my wife and I may qualify, since she's still in graduate school. But I was wondering whether there were any other requirements.

W: Well, unless you have more than one child, you have to have a combined annual income that's less than fifteen thousand dollars.

M: I'm working as a part-time research assistant, so that's no problem! But right now we're living with my wife's parents. Does that mean we'd have to include their income too?

W: Not necessarily. Why don't you stop by our office, so I can give you some forms to fill out and explain everything in more detail?

M: That sounds like a good idea. Thank you!

听第 10 段材料，回答第 10 题。

W: Oh my God. It's really a headache to decide which car we should choose to buy.

M: Yeah, but anyway you should give your opinion.

W: I think we should get a large car because once we have children, we won't be able to afford a new car. We have to get something big enough for all of us.

M: But a large one will burn a lot of gas. You know the gas will cost us a lot.

W: That's true. I guess we have a lot of questions to think about before we decide what to get. Let's start looking around and asking questions.

M: We can also talk to our friend Tami. She should be able to help us out.

M: Can you give me some pills instead? I hate injections.

W: Certainly. But you won't get better soon unless I give you an injection. And you have to take some pills. Be sure to take them on time.

W: I can't wait to see Canada, Jason, but I'm scared stiff of the journey. My husband insists on flying, but I want to sail. Planes make me nervous.
M: There's nothing to be frightened of. How many planes fly across the Atlantic every day?
W: I've no idea. Hundreds, I suppose.
M: And how often do you hear of a crash? Once or twice a year?
W: Yes, but airplanes fly so high and fast that once is enough.
M: There are more road accidents per day than air deaths per year. Air transport is really safe compared with road transport.
W: I still prefer to go by sea. Ships may not travel fast but at least you can relax. I'd love a trip on a luxury liner like the Queen Elizabeth II.
M: It's fine if you're a good sailor, but have you ever travelled far in a rough sea?
W: No. I've only been in a boat once. I sailed down the River Thames on a sightseeing tour ... But in any case I'd rather be seasick than dead.
